Trafficking

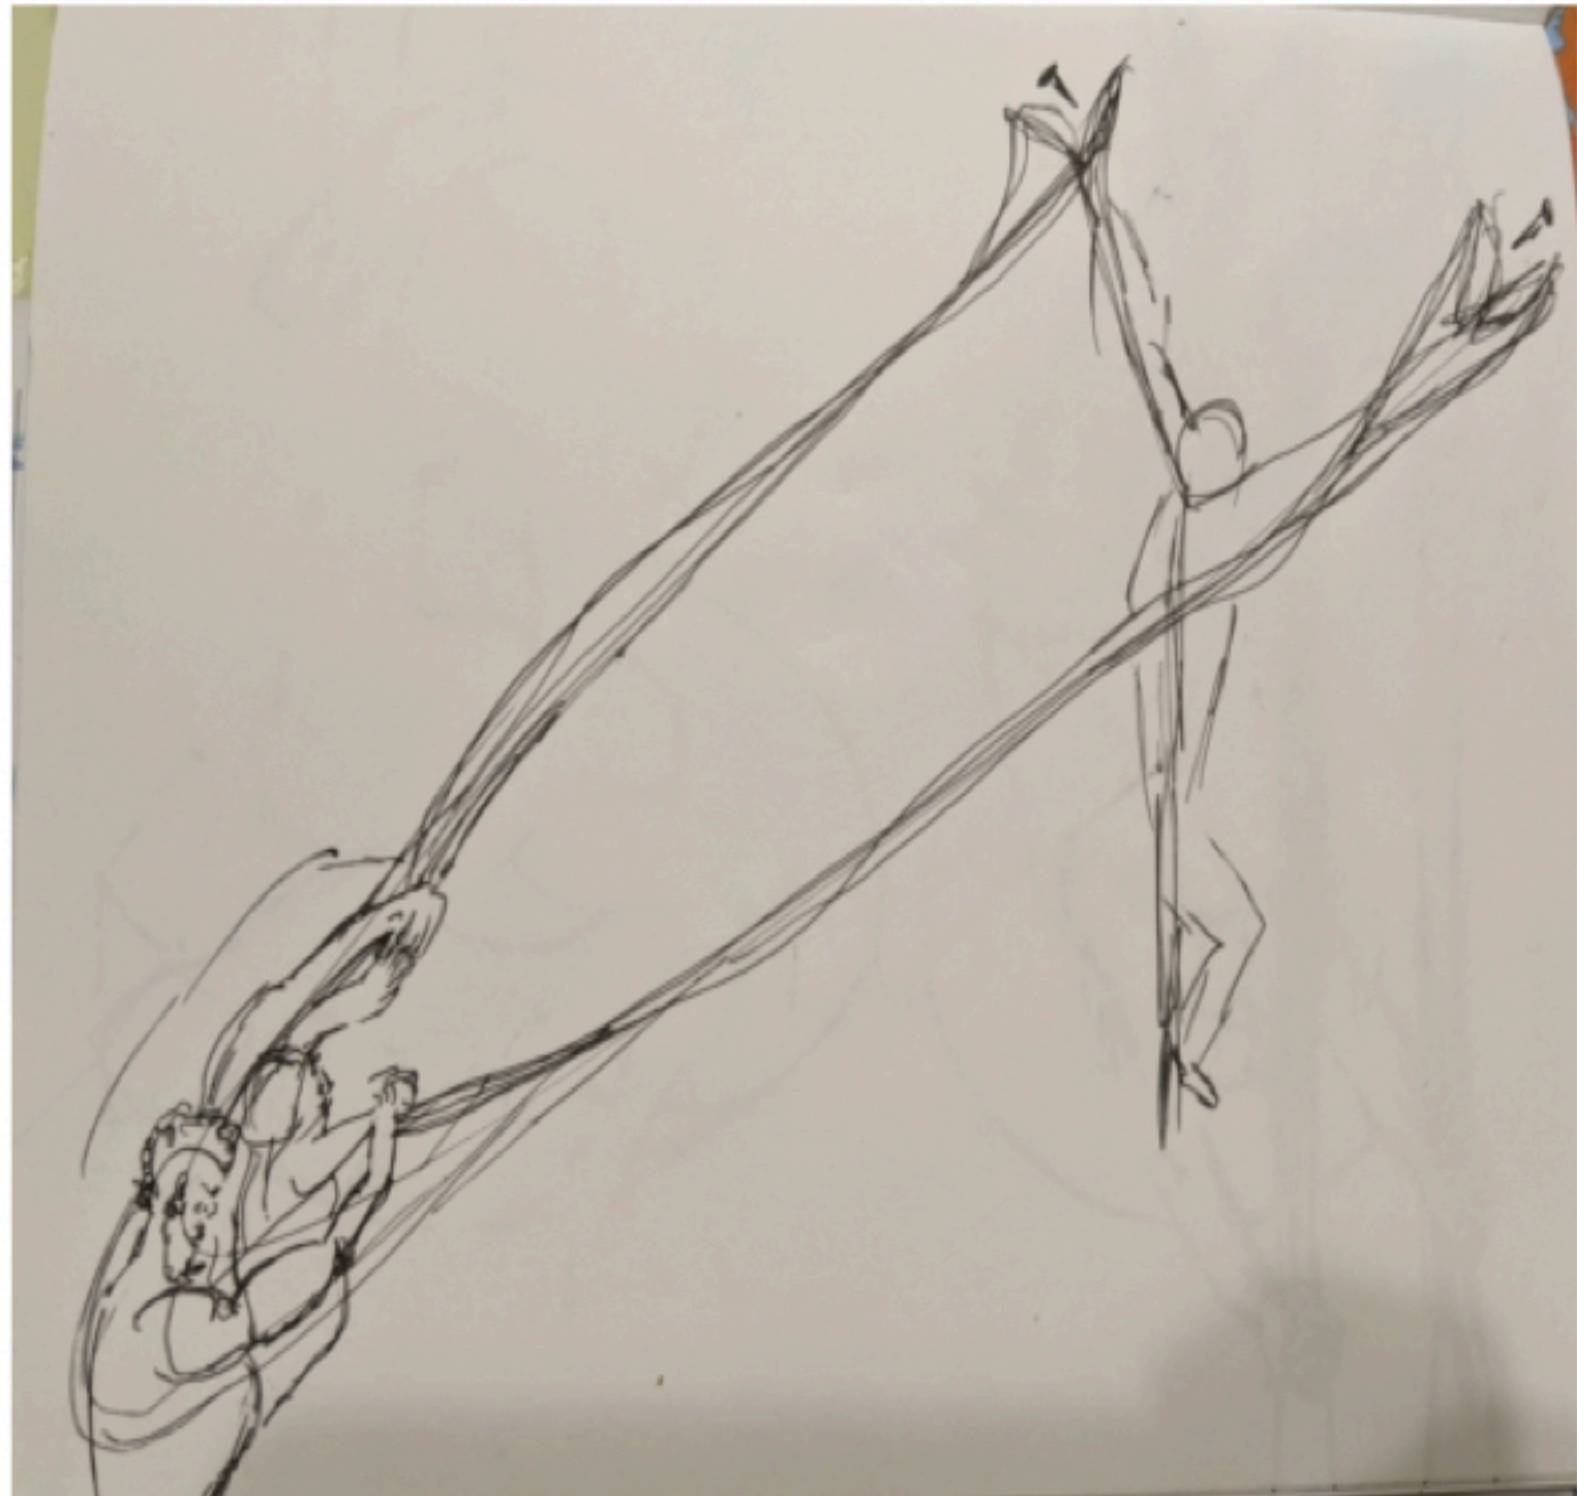

(Elise was doing strategic prayer for trafficking victims.)

“Wanting to be free yet scared and wanting to hide. I tried to use color to depict the softening of the heart and the healing process”.

“When all is lost . . . when the waves and weight
of the world are trying to capsize
our efforts, His hope remains, and redemption and
resurrection
prevails to victory!”

“When I think of
you and Apostle,
I see Jesus using
you both as a couple to be His slingshot to accomplish His work.”

“The ‘onion’ is the walls around my heart I needed breakthrough for. The explosions of color behind are tears of the saints and their prayers bringing that breakthrough and hope for me.”

The background features a light blue gradient with a large, faint arc in the center. Scattered across the image are numerous water droplets of various sizes, some with highlights and shadows, giving them a three-dimensional appearance. The text is centered in the middle of the image.
